Advertising is an art of making sure the target market receives advertising message and responds in kind. Horlicks has been traditionally targeted at elders. However, about 5 years ago, communication was changed with the introduction of different flavors. The TV commercial had children going around the town, cheering "Epang Opang Jhapang"-a chat without any meaning. However, the TVC showed their mothers deciding on the choice of health drink. Horlicks competitor Complian promised to make the kids taller. Now, Horlicks has gone a step further in promising not only height but a stronger body and a sharper mind. The new campaign for Horlicks gives the kids a motto: Badlo apne bachpan ka size. The new TVC has Darsheel Safary, the child protagonist of Taare Zameen Par, in the lead. Safary and his friends are on a mission to change things they dont like and question age old practices. Is Horlicks taking kids on a rebellious path? The TVC will be supported by print, radio and on ground activities and extended to Horlicks school programs, Whiz Kids Contest. In the late 2008, a legal battle broke out between Glaxo Smith Kline Consumer Healthcare (GSK) and Heinz India over the advertisements of their respective drinks Horlicks & Complian. The advertisements talked about how their respective brand was better than the other. Glaxo Smith Kline (GSK) has re-launched its Horlicks brand in three new flavors on the Indian market, according to reports in the Indian press. GSK has about 75% market share of Indias health drink market with Boost, Viva and Maltova, according to a report from Press Trust of India.
